Today each depositor of the Irving National Bank can secure a statement of his account with cancelled vouchers for October.

Reinforced concrete was 10% cheaper than the lowest of six structural steel bids on this abattoir.

It is another example of the adaptability of reinforced concrete to the needs of various industries.

TUNKHANNOCK VIADUCT

(On the New 39-Mile Scranton-Binghamton Cut-off)

Half a Mile Long—240 Feet High

Ready November 7th, 1915

More than one hundred feet higher than the roadway of Brooklyn Bridge.

If erected in Broadway would fill street from building line to building line from 23d street to 32d street to a height approximately that of the Flatiron Building.

This is the crowning work of the Lackawanna Railroad's amazing policy of development, which has subordinated expense and every other consideration to the one purpose of making the road what it is today, not only by many miles

Safety First

The double track roadway of this steel-reinforced concrete viaduct is enclosed between massive parapet walls three feet thick and rising above the track to a height of 4 feet, thus ensuring safety without interfering with the extraordinary view from train windows.
